NEW HAMPTON’S
POLICE CHIEF “DOUG” SALMON
RETIRING

His retirement culminates over 35 years of service in law enforcement, starting with the Connecticut State Police. He has served the people of New Hampshire throughout the years in the Rockingham and Belknap Sheriff’s Departments, as Holderness Chief of Police as well as a part-time officer in both Holderness and Meredith. His service with the New Hampton Police Department began in 1980, and then he was promoted to Police Chief in 1983, serving until 1993. He returned as New Hampton’s Police Chief in 2009 and has decided to retire this July 2014. He is well respected in the law enforcement field and his decision to leave the Department is a significant loss to our community.

His service to the Town of New Hampton has been exemplary and the citizens of New Hampton were glad he returned in 2009. Just in the past 5 years his accomplishments were many, such as overseeing the design and construction of the new Police Department, reorganizing police policies and procedures, ensuring the hiring of good officers and supporting them in their law enforcement career goals and establishing a working relationship with the New Hampton School which resulted in the creation of a full-time position of campus Safety Resource Officer.

We appreciate his years of dedicated service and wish him all the best in the future and a healthy and enjoyable retirement!

If you would like to send him a message to wish him well in his retirement and/or thank him for his service you can email him at: msalmon@new-hampton.nh.us
