Are you looking for a fun and rewarding hobby you can do both indoors and outdoors? One that will allow you to make new friends both locally and all across the world? Would you like to help the community by providing critical communications at local public events?

You can do all that and much, much more by getting your amateur radio license. Huge advancements in technology have produced portable radios that are about the size of a smart phone! You can now carry a small ham radio in your pocket or purse.

A FREE six-week course is being held on Wednesday nights from 6:30 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. at the Lakes Region General Hospital (LRGH) Healthcare offices in Laconia. The classes begin on April 10, 2013 and run through May 22, 2013.

You do NOT have to know or learn Morse Code to get your amateur radio license. There's no age requirement either. People of all ages are encouraged to participate in this educational opportunity and exciting hobby.

The classes will be held in the LRGH Conference Room LL4 located at 80 Highland Street in Laconia, NH 03246.
